Welcome to East Renfrewshire's first Corporate Parenting Plan!

In East Renfrewshire we are very committed to improving opportunities for all children and young people however we recognise that we have a special responsibility for those who are looked after and in our care. To this end the Community Planning Partnership and its members, East Renfrewshire Council, East Renfrewshire Health and Social Care Partnership, NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde along with an extensive list of other local and national organisations, the new "corporate parents", have been working together to agree on how to improve the help and support we provide. Importantly, children and young people have been working with us to help us understand what they need to see improved, as have those who care for them.

As East Renfrewshire's Corporate Parenting Family we recognise that it is our job to ensure that we are creating as many opportunities for looked after children to succeed as is possible. Like any good parent we want our looked after children to enjoy school and do well there, we want them to be healthy and happy, secure and confident. We want them to go to college or university, to find good jobs, to have loving relationships and happy lives. In addition we want them to be included and effective members of our communities and in the fullness of time possibly be good parents themselves.

With this, our first Corporate Parenting Plan, we are building on the positive work that has already been undertaken in East Renfrewshire over a number of years. However we understand we now have a corporate duty to go further still by setting more ambitious goals that will deliver improved outcomes for the children and young people that we care for.

To make this new responsibility a reality we have underpinned this plan with a pledge to East Renfrewshire's care experienced children and young people that "we - their Corporate Parents - will work together to prioritise and address their needs and we will have high expectations of ourselves to deliver the improvements needed, to make the difference for them".

Finally we hope you will agree that this plan marks an important shift in how we take forward our new corporate parenting responsibilities and we invite you to work with us to support our goal of promoting opportunities and enhancing life chances for the children and young people in our care.

Lorraine McMillan
Chief Executive Officer
East Renfrewshire Council

WHY ARE WE PUBLISHING THIS NEW PLAN?

The Children and Young People (Scotland) Act 2014 was passed by the Scottish Parliament in February 2014. This new law is a key part of the Scottish Government's intention to make Scotland the best place in the world to grow up. The Act makes important changes to a wide range of areas that impact on the lives of children and young people, and those of their families and carers.

Firstly the Act reinforces our vision for all of our children and young people in East Renfrewshire that they should be - safe, healthy, active, nurtured, achieving, respected, responsible, and included. Part 9 of the Act however is very important in that it places new corporate parenting duties on a wide range of publicly funded agencies (see appendix 1 for list of corporate parents), increasing the breadth and the depth of support available to looked after children and young people, and those leaving care. The Scottish Government made the decision to create new law in this area because there was a commonly held view throughout Scotland that not enough was being achieved by government policy alone.

The duties introduced by Part 9 of the Act create new incentives for organisations to work individually as well as together to deliver better outcomes for care experienced children and young people. In East Renfrewshire, partners within the community planning partnership have worked together over many years to plan and deliver services for looked after children predominantly through the integrated children's services plan that is published every 3 years. The new Act and the statutory guidance that accompanies it now recommends that local authorities and their partners develop and publish their new integrated children's services plans and new corporate parent plans separately but within the wider context of joint children's planning.

WHO ARE THE NEW CORPORATE PARENTS?

As a result of the new Act there are now 24 organisations in Scotland who have "corporate parent" status. The list is set out in appendix 1. Many of these organisations have indirect experience of working with children who are care experienced but in response to their new legal responsibilities they are actively considering how they can contribute to making a difference.

EAST RENFREWSHIRE'S COMMUNITY PLANNING PARTNERSHIP

In the local context most of the members of East Renfrewshire's Community Planning Partnership are now Corporate Parents and as such all have contributed directly towards this plan. These include East Renfrewshire Council, many services within the Council, East Renfrewshire Health and Social Care Partnership, NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde Health Board, Skills Development Scotland, in addition to the Scottish Children's Reporters Administration, Children's Hearings Scotland. Other partners include East Renfrewshire Culture and Leisure Trust, Voluntary Action East Renfrewshire, and Who Cares Scotland.

WHAT ARE OUR NEW CORPORATE PARENTING DUTIES?

Part 9 of the Children and Young People (Scotland) Act 2014 sets out the duties that all new corporate parents need to comply with. For the purposes of this new plan Section 58, 59, 60, 61, and 62 are most important duties in respect of how we in East Renfrewshire all work in partnership with our children, their parents and their carers, to improve their outcomes. As such it is crucial that the new corporate parents understand these duties and what is expected of them as a consequence. These are briefly explained below and as can be seen they are inter related and dependent upon each other.

Section 58: Corporate Parenting Responsibilities

All of the new corporate parents must be alert to the wellbeing of looked after children, assess their need for their services, promote their interests, provide opportunities and enable access, and improve where there are gaps. This duty is best illustrated by the picture below.

Section 59, 60, 61, and 62: Collaboration, Planning, Reporting, and Providing Information to Scottish Ministers

Corporate parents are required to collaborate with each other in order to prepare and publish their corporate parenting plans and keep these plans under review. They must periodically report on progress with achievement of their plans and provide the Scottish Government with a full progress report on how they have exercised their Part 9 duties in relation to the looked after children and young people population they serve. The Scottish Government in turn will report to the Scottish Parliament on the overall impact of this activity throughout Scotland.

WHAT DOES CORPORATE PARENTING MEAN?

To help all corporate parents understand their new role a helpful definition of what it means to be a corporate parent has been provided by the Scottish Government in the Corporate Parenting Statutory Guidance published in August 2015:

“An organisation's performance of actions necessary to uphold the rights and safeguard the wellbeing of a looked after child or care leaver, and through which physical, emotional, spiritual, social and educational development is promoted.”

Of course being a good corporate parent is more than fulfilling statutory duties. Children in our care and young people who are receiving a continuing care or after-care service have the right to expect that we will provide them with everything a good parent would provide in order to ensure they reach their full potential.

To support us do this we will:

- Know the children and young people in our care, their needs and aspirations and promote their interests
- Have high expectations for their future
- Take an interest in their progress and celebrate their successes
- Listen to their views and ensure they influence policy, services, and practice
- Ensure they are consulted about their own lives and plans
- Recognise, support and respect their religious and/or cultural identity
- Ensure they live in a safe and stable home environment where they can develop positive and caring relationships with trusted adults, family and friends
- Provide educational experiences of the highest standards
- Promote their physical and mental health and emotional resilience
- Support transition to adulthood and promote their economic prospects

To achieve this we need to:

- Ensure assessment, planning and decision-making meets the highest standards and is in the child's best interests
- Develop and deliver integrated services centred on improving each child's outcomes
- Strive for stability in placements
- Make timeous decisions about permanent destinations
- Strengthen the professional team around the child and young person
- Work together to improve educational experiences and outcomes
- Ensure access to healthcare, assessment, treatment and support
- Involve children and young people in the design of services
- Engage the new corporate parents to enable them to identify the role that they can play

WHAT DIFFERENCE WILL WE MAKE

During the plan development we worked within the framework of our local Single Outcome Agreement and in particular the outcomes related to children, young people, and families:

- SOA1 All children in East Renfrewshire experience a stable and secure start to their lives and are supported to succeed.
- SOA2 East Renfrewshire residents are fit and active and have the skills for learning, life and work

The agreed shanarri themes and champions are set out in the table below and the detail of how we will deliver improvements for children are outlined in the Corporate Parenting Framework. From the wide range of engagement activity we have undertaken with children, young people, carers and staff, we have agreed the following themes as the basis to improve outcomes for children and young people in our care in East Renfrewshire. In addition we have appointed “Champions” from our senior management team to oversee delivery of the activity and ensure outcomes are being achieved.

IMPROVING HOW OUR ORGANISATIONS' RESPOND – SYSTEMS & LEARNING

In order to make this plan successful we need to improve our ability to appropriately and proportionately share information between corporate parents. This will ensure that corporate parents respond and children and young people get the help they need.

In addition we need to ensure that staff across the new Corporate Parenting Family, and elected members too, understand what corporate parenting means, what the issues are for children and young people, and how they and their agency can make a difference. To this end we will deliver a learning and development programme pitched appropriately and utilising a range of different methods. Care experienced young people will support us with this work.

OUR POPULATION OF LOOKED AFTER CHILDREN AND YOUNG PEOPLE

On 31 July 2015 the profile of East Renfrewshire’s looked after children and young people’s population was as follows:

Source: Children’s Social Work Statistics in Scotland 2014-15 (Scottish Government)

Over the last two years we have doubled our in-house foster care resources. Kinship and close family support is utilised when it is assessed as safe to do so and in the child’s best interests and this is an area where the greatest growth has taken place over the last two years, with the number of looked after children increasing by 100%.

The use of external care placements purchased from the independent sector has significantly reduced, by 35% between 2014 and 2016, as costs were exceptionally high and outcomes for children unclear. The use of residential school accommodation is now minimal except for a very small number of young people who have very significant complex needs, and there were no young people in secure over the period 2014 and 2016.

WHAT CHILDREN AND YOUNG PEOPLE HAVE TOLD US

Part 1 of the Children and Young People (Scotland) Act 2014 places a duty on public bodies to report on the steps they have taken to better secure, or give further effect to the requirements of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC).

Article 12 of the UNCRC specifically states that children and young people have the “right to express their views freely in all matters affecting them” in accordance with their age and maturity.

In East Renfrewshire in recent times we have strengthened our approach to participation and engagement with the children and young people in our care. Based on the SHANARRI Wellbeing Indicators Viewpoint has been our key tool for gathering information to support the development of the child/young person’s plan. It also provides us with a wealth of information about children’s experiences of our services and how well we are doing to support them.

We recently began to use the new Viewpoint SHANARRI Wellbeing Web version and this is more than ever before, helping us to capture the main areas that need to be improved.

This report indicates that children feel safer, are generally achieving more, and are much more active. However we can also see that they are telling us that “healthy” is an area that needs to be addressed and in response we are exploring further what these issues are.

THE CHAMPIONS BOARD

East Renfrewshire’s first Champions Board was launched on 13 June 2016 at our “Keep Calm and Be a Corporate Parent” event. Funded from Life Changes Trust the membership of the board is drawn from looked after young people and care leavers, but importantly membership includes senior officers within the local authority, health and care partnership, and the wider corporate parenting family.

Using a co-production approach the Board will play a key role in ensuring the East Renfrewshire Corporate Parenting Plan is delivered and challenge corporate parents to meet commitments. Our Care Leavers Covenant was signed at the event too and the signatories are listed at appendix 4.

Although at its early stages of development young people through the mechanism of the Champions Board are already communicating with us what will help make the biggest difference for them. In particular young people have told us that they want earlier support to prepare for the post school world of training, education and work but they are also telling us that to succeed in this young adult world they need to live in a safe and secure home environment free from the financial barriers that state benefits can bring.

LISTENING TO FAMILIES AND CARERS

Those who care for our looked after children and young people, have also helped us to develop this first ever Corporate Parenting Plan for East Renfrewshire. We conducted a workshop for our local authority carers that focused on their roles as well as the needs of the children. Carers told us that their interactions with nurseries and schools outwith East Renfrewshire can be difficult and they asked for more support from the team around the child to help them with this. They also reported that children's access to or use of specialist health services can be inconsistent due to health board boundaries. Carers also identified their own areas for learning and their support staff will address this.

Parents of children in our care can access targeted parenting programmes to assist them make changes that can address their own difficulties and improve their ability to care and support their child either at home or away from home. Feedback from Mellow Parenting in particular is very positive with outcomes indicating that parents feel less isolated, more confident in parenting, and have improved trust in staff and services.

UNACCOMPANIED ASYLUM SEEKING CHILDREN

In recent years there has been a significant increase in the number of unaccompanied children reaching the UK and claiming asylum. When young unaccompanied asylum seekers present to our services under the age of 18, they require to be treated with the same status as young people looked after by the local authority and our responses currently require to be compliant with the Children (Scotland) Act, 1995, the Children and Young People Act (2014) and associated legislation.

This includes requirements to ensure any placements and services are regulated and inspected by the Care Inspectorate and that crucially we now also require to provide support until the age of 26, or until a decision is taken regarding their immigration status.

As East Renfrewshire is expected to agree to support a number of unaccompanied children to reside in our area our Corporate Parenting Family will recognise our responsibilities to them and respond to ensure they are included within our community, and enabled to access opportunities that will be made available to them.

HOW WE WILL DELIVER OUR PROMISES

Our collaborative working arrangements take place within the context of East Renfrewshire's integrated children's services plan structure – see Appendix 3. Our Corporate Parenting Planning Group is charged with progressing the plan and will compile quarterly update reports for the Corporate Parenting Champions to consider. This will allow barriers to implementation to be identified quickly and remedies agreed.

The Improving Outcomes for Children and Young People Partnership will oversee the delivery of the new plan within the wider context of integrated children's services and will approve all progress reports for Committees. To ensure that the plan is having an impact we intend to conduct audits of children and young people's plans. This will allow us to determine individual children's progress across the full range of outcomes.

CONCLUSION

Our care experienced children and young people are all unique. Each and every one of them has differing backgrounds and experiences, strengths and needs. Our aim in East Renfrewshire is to respond to them as individuals and ensure that everything we do is contributing towards their journey in life being stable, secure, happy, safe, and rewarding. We regard this first Corporate Parenting Plan as an excellent opportunity to make this difference and we the corporate parents will work hard to achieve our promises and keep to our pledge.
